

take this time to make a few points about this commonsense proposal.

First, for the last 15 years, the SEC hasn't spent a dime of taxpayer money. For 15 years, the SEC has had no impact on the deficit. This is because Congress, in 1996, amended the securities laws to provide that 100 percent of the SEC's funding comes from registration and filing fees charged by the Commission.

Second, even though the SEC collects more in fees every year than it spends, the amount of the SEC's annual budget is determined by Congress, which has continually shortchanged the SEC. The SEC's budget has been in the crosshairs for years, and their funding has been so inadequate that they have been compromised in their ability to pursue their core mission.

Third, the budget proposal in the House would continue the short-changing of the SEC, cutting $40 million from its existing budget at a time when it needs resources more than ever.

Finally, a word about the current demands on the SEC. We gave that agency significant new responsibilities under the Dodd-Frank Act, in particular to oversee the previously unregulated derivative markets. That is an enormous undertaking that everybody agrees is necessary after seeing the role that unregulated derivatives played in the financial crisis.

In closing, I would strongly suggest to my colleagues that if self-funding makes sense for the PTO, it makes sense for the SEC. I am not going to call up my amendment now or my bill now, but I urge my colleagues to support this commonsense proposal Senator REED and I are pushing and ensure it gets a full hearing in the Senate.

I thank the Chair for his time and attention.
